Happily Never After

Dear Parents and Carers,

This year we are going to be needing help from parents to source and pull together costume items for our cast. With World Book Day coming up in March a lot of the charity shops start to stock dressing up items and clothing that could be used by your child and purchased cheaply!

Over the half-term holidays, I will be visiting Broadway Amateur Dramatical society's wardrobe attic to source as many items and accessories as possible, and Mrs Birks is working her creative magic on some costume items. Below is an overview of what each character requires costume wise.

If you have any difficulties sourcing items for your child for any reason, please do let us know and we will endeavor to help where we can.

The cast have been working hard, and we are very proud of the commitment that they have been putting into learning lines and songs for the show.

After half term the cast will be having some extra rehearsal time during school hours to help them prepare for the show.

The show will be taking place on Thursday 26th March in the school hall starting at 3.30pm. We will write with further details after half term.

If your child no longer wishes to be part of the show, please do let us know asap, this will enable us to make script changes and alterations where needed.

Please do get in touch if you have any questions or queries via the office email.

Kind regards,

Mrs Guyett & Mrs Birks
